

Arundel Community Land Trust – Financial Support

Donations & Bequests

The Arundel Community Land Trust is conscious of the need to secure its long-term future as a charitable organisation helping to overcome the frustrated ambitions of young locals desperate to continue to live in the Parish, and pursue other land-based projects of community benefit.

This requires building an asset base beyond the modest grant income and individual membership fees currently available.

ACLT Rules are based on a 'Community Assets Model' which allow us to promote the issues of shares (or anything else which might be considered an investment).

The board recognises that it takes time to build a credible track record that allows potential investors and donors to be wholly confident about their support.

In the meantime, however, the Trust very much welcomes donations, large or small, from civic-minded individuals and parties wanting to give something back to Arundel after a lifetime's enjoyment of its hinterland and treasures. There may even be inheritance tax advantage for those considering bequests.

To donate, or for more information, please contact info@arundelclt.org.

It's unlikely that ACLT will ever match the endowment funds of Harvard or Cambridge, but all began through the generosity of a single interested individual! From small acorns .....
